

And I write.....

You are no longer lost, but now you are found
Today you are placed in this hollowed ground
I thank you for serving our country
And I am honored that you spent some time with me.

You are no longer lost, but now you are found
Today you are placed in this hollowed ground
The guns will fire and the bag pipers will play
To honor you on this special day.

You are no longer lost, but now you are found
Today you are placed in this hollowed ground
5 men who served their country honorably to make this the land of the free and you helped make this world safe for me

You are no longer lost, but now you are found
Today you are placed in this hollowed ground
We don't know the story of your life or the place you called home
Or what happened that left you alone.

You are no longer lost, but now you are found
Today you are placed in this hollowed ground.
What we want you to know is that you now have somewhere to go.

Many people are honored to be here today to let you know that you have found your way.
You are no longer lost, but now you are found
Today you are placed in this hollowed ground.

Dorothy J. Minor
8/28/2009